

Short Social Post

"Nothing catastrophic yet" isn't evidence of safety.

Founder launch rule: "nothing catastrophic yet" isn't evidence of safety. Challenger's recurring O-ring distress was normalized while warnings were diluted by schedule pressure. Repeated workarounds, unresolved reliability issues, and engineer dissent are launch signals-not perfectionism.