

The Arena Is Where It Counts

Effort beats sneering; courageous failure beats standing aside.

Character shows up when the work is hard, the mistake is public, and you still carry your share. The critic points at the stumble. The worker steps into the arena, accepts the risk, and keeps going. Effort beats sneering; courageous failure beats standing aside.